In the kitchen

Use saucepans, wooden spoons etc. to join in the poem:
'Sorting Out the Kitchen Pans' by Quentin Blake, from All Join In

We're sorting out the kitchen pans
DING DONG BANG
Sorting out the kitchen pans
BING BONG CLANG
Sorting out the kitchen pans
TING BANG DONG
Sorting out the kitchen pans
CLANG DING BONG
Sorting out the kitchen pans
DONG DANG BONG TING TANG BING BANG CLANG DING... OW!

Sorting out socks-

- make a clothes line for your child to peg the socks on to.
- Roll pairs of socks into balls for your child to throw into the laundry basket or a bowl/box.

Pairing up family shoes and putting them into size order.

- Collect food packaging to explore and make junk models with.
- If you can find a larger box, give it to your child to explore and make larger models with.

- Make some playdough (see Playdough handout) and keep it in the fridge. Give your child some to play with while you are cooking.
- Use rollers and cutters, and a patty tin .

Washing up bowl and water play:

- Give your child water, bubbles and small containers and spoons to play with.
- Add food colouring to make different coloured water.
- Hide objects under the bubbles for your child to find
- Add a doll or soft toy to "wash"

Fruit and Vegetable play

Give your child different vegetables to explore. Some ideas:

- A bag of potatoes to wash, peel and cut up. Then cook and mash. Add garlic or other flavours
- Sort potatoes from biggest to smallest
- Sort different vegetables
- Make vegetable models
- Cut different vegetables in half and play a matching game to join them back together
- Fruit and vegetable printing
- Make vegetable patterns

- Cress or mustard seeds. Save some egg shells and decorate with a face. Add some damp cotton wool inside and sprinkle the cress seeds on top. Draw a body on a toilet roll for your cress person, Place on the window sill and keep the cotton wool damp. When the cress has grown, use to make egg and cress sandwiches

- 'Paint' or mark make onto paper or a white plate or chopping board with fresh or defrosted blueberries, strawberries, blackberries, cherries

- Fill a tray or bowl with pasta, rice, cereal flakes or lentils for your child to explore. Think about putting it on a large tray or cloth to make tidy up time easier!
- Hide a range of objects in the tray- e.g. shiny things such as spoons, pastry cutters, a whisk etc; collection of wooden spoons or their own toys.
- Add containers for pouring and scooping
- Add spoons for stirring and mark making
- Add a sheet of foil at the bottom of the tray or bowl for your child to uncover with their marks

- Fill a bowl or tray with ice cubes for your child to explore. Add water to the tray and explore further.
- Add salt to a bowl of ice cubes and explore what happens.
- Fill different containers or rubber gloves with water and put them in the freezer with your child. Take them out the next day for exploration and play
- Put leaves, flowers or small pieces of fruit into an ice cube tray and fill with water as above. The next day encourage play and exploration and return to the ice cubes as they melt.
- On a hot day make ice lollies or ice cubes with your child with fruit juice or diluted squash.

- Arrange different sets of objects into muffin tins
- Add some kitchen tongs to move the objects
- Put paper fairy cake cases into the tins and fill these with dried pasta to make 'cakes'

- Use a 6 or 12 egg box and offer your child a range of objects to arrange in the sections
- Use coloured lego or duplo to make a pattern
- Add kitchen tongs to move and transfer the objects

- Give your child a set of magnets from the fridge to explore at their height or on a metal baking sheet
- Add small pieces of paper to 'stick' using the magnets

Pasta play

- Explore pushing dried spaghetti sticks into the holes in a colander or strainer
- Thread cheerios or hula hoop crisps onto dried spaghetti sticks pushed into a piece of playdough, blu tac or half an orange (make the holes first with a skewer)
- Explore cooked spaghetti. Add food colouring to create rainbow spaghetti.

'Spaghetti, spaghetti, you're wonderful stuff!
I love you spaghetti, I can't get enough.
You're covered in sauce and you're sprinkled with cheese,
Spaghetti, spaghetti, oh, give me some please!'

From 'Spaghetti' by Jack Prelusky

Do some simple cooking, such as:

- Toast and toppings
- Porridge
- Buy a bread mix and follow instructions to make rolls, then make different shapes, animals etc.)
- Pitta bread pizza
- Soup
- Fruit smoothie
- Tablespoon biscuit cookies
- Banana cake
- Macaroni cheese
- Flapjack
- Gingerbread people
